from her stomach, but she tried Electro Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver."

POLITICS AND THE UNIVERSITY.

The University "episode" at the Opera House on Thursday evening was not unexpected to real friends of the institution whose object it has been to avoid any mention of the institution in connection with politics. The feeling entertained by a few persons in Reno whose language and manner indicate that they are of the opinion that the present and future of the University depends upon them, precluded a hope that the school would be permitted to go through the canvass without being in some manner connected with the passions and prejudices usually included in political contention. It is, and will be regretted by all sensible people, that any mention was made of the name of Professor Jackson or Doctor Phillips with politics and the institution. A proper discretion that ever arises from sound judgment seems to be in the shade when these persons are making themselves conspicuous about University matters. The people know how to distinguish between the University and its true relation to the public, and men who may be identified with it directly, or between it, and those who force themselves upon it to secure a little cheap standing on the outer walls of learning. Professor Jackson and Doctor Phillips are men who have been prominently identified with the school and who are fully aware of its needs, not one of which they would not aid to supply in an ample manner. The personal differences of these gentlemen with others who are identified with the institution do not have any connection with its present relation to the State or its future prosperity. The manifest weakness of its pretended Reno friends is in attempt made to connect these personal differences with the University. Professors Jackson and Phillips have severed their connection with the school and have retired retaining the respect and high regard of the people, to other vocations.

They have been selected by their political parties as candidates for political preferment, and they will receive it, if expressions of good will toward and confidence in the men are guides to properly conclude upon the future. Is there anything in the high standing these men have secured which ever arises from an honorable course, to call forth their private differences with others in a political meeting to be advanced as reasons against their election? Such an absurd position has only to be mentioned to show its weakness.

It seems to those who have a just pride in the State's chief place of learning that any identification of it with the private differences of those who may be or may not be identified with it, can only tend to injure its influence. The University, for its present good and future usefulness, is in a position to be delivered from the influence of those who pose in a very pronounced way as its friends.

When a small ring assumes that they are its chief guardians, to the exclusion of the general public, and who are permitted in any way to influence its course, it is then beyond the line of a great State institution of learning, which in time will result to its injury and to the injury of those who direct it. Superior executive ability, connected with learning, will not overcome the blighting effects flowing from such causes, as they are in opposition to a legitimate order of things.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT was treated to another bath of mud and rotten eggs in his home State the other day. We cannot say that we approve of this mode of argument; yet we submit the proposition that it is only a fair return for the metaphorical mud and decayed hen froit that the rude rough rider has been hurling at William Jennings Bryan. If these rude but well meant offerings are any indication of Teddy's popularity in New York, heaven help Hanna.

A. C. CLEVELAND, in his speech at the opera house on Thursday night, said that under the fifteen amendment Black Wallace was "as much entitled to a vote as any white man." When the soldiers behind a captain are engaged in shooting him in the back, he and his organization are in a bad way.

THE railroad company furnished Farrington with a special locomotive the other day to enable him to keep an engagement at Austin. And, yet, Mr. Farrington says he isn't the railroad candidate. Oh, no! Not at all.

AN anonymous writer in the Gazette under the name of "Zacharias" inquires what good the election of Bryan will do silver if a Congress hostile to silver is in possession of either house of Congress. We will reply to that question by asking him another. What harm did the election of Grover Cleveland in 1892 do silver when both houses of Congress were naturally friendly to the white metal?

UP-COUNTRY HAPPENINGS

Items From Our Regular Correspondent up on the N-C-O.

The general office building is being renovated in order to meet new requirements.

Master Car-builder House has 36 flat cars under construction. He is also building a private car for General Manager Danaway.

The Eastern Oregon and Northeastern California folks are laying in supplies for the winter, causing a rush of merchandise toward the north.

Telegraph instruments have been placed in four or five offices along the line. As soon as all the stations are thus equipped a modern system of dispatching trains will be inaugurated.

T. H. Fitzpatrick has been chosen superintendent of the road. He comes from the Kansas City, Fort Worth & Memphis road, where he held several prominent positions at different times. Superintendent Fitzpatrick entered upon the duties of his office yesterday.

Torchlight Parade This Evening.

This evening there will be a grand demonstration for Bryan, Newlands, Jackson and the remainder of the fusion ticket. A huge parade will form in front of the Young Men's Newlands club headquarters, on Second street. Several hundred torch and flambeau bearers, headed by a brass band, will parade the streets.

The line of march will be to Sierra, to Commercial Row, to Lake, across track, to opera house, to Masonic hall, to Virginia, to Lake, to the pavilion.

All along the line of march there will be a dazzling display of fireworks. Congressman Newlands, Professor Jackson, C. D. Van Duzer and others will address the audience in the pavilion.

A Serious Matter.

Mr. Chandler of Illinois, advocating McKinley's election at the Carson Opera House on Thursday evening, said that Bryan wouldn't do for President, because Bryan's father was a "jumperhead."

Some scientists say that the remote progenitors of both McKinley and Bryan were apes; but this is no reason why sophistical orators should try to "make monkeys" of us.

Anent this Bob Logan asks if Bryan's ability as a "stamp" speaker be due to the alleged fact that his father had a wooden leg.

Further developments are awaited with anxiety. J. FOUJADE.

Rich Lead-Silver Ore Found.

Two miners employed by J. H. Brown uncovered a valuable find Thursday. A lead eight inches in width was uncovered. It is well defined. The rock assays 50 per cent in silver, and in some instances as high as $1000 in silver, together with some gold. A quantity of the ore has been extracted and the claim—the Fairview—promises to become a mine.

A. O. F.

The members of Court Mt. Rose, No. 8354, A. O. F., are requested to assemble at Clough & Crosby's hall, Sunday, Nov. 4, 1900 at 1:30 P. M., to attend the funeral of our late brother, W. J. Noyes. All sojourning brothers are invited to attend.

Press dispatches announce that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company is preparing to foreclose on two mortgages it holds against the Sierra Valley railway. Rumor has it that the Morans of New York will purchase the road and make it a part of the Nevada-California-Oregon railway system.

Dogskin Camp Copper.

R. Nash & Co., owners of the Eureka and Dexter mines, two of the most promising claims in Dogskin mining camp, have made a beautiful exhibit of their ores in Rosenthal & Armanke's window. The rock averages 80 per cent and is largely borate.

Depleted.

The town fund is about as low as it has been for some years, there being something less than $350 available

Commissioners at their next meeting.
With an expensive sewer in the southeastern portion of the city, the fire alarm system, and the proposed purchase of the fire engine house, the funds for 1900 will be insufficient to meet the demand, and it certainly looks like a bill for another bond issue will come before the next Legislature.

AN INTERVIEW WITH JACKSON

Our Next Senator Declares His Position in no Uncertain Terms.

Much comment having been aroused by Senator Flanigan's attack upon Professor Jackson at the Republican meeting Thursday, a representative of the JOURNAL interviewed the Professor concerning the matter yesterday morning.

"Mr. Jackson are you aware that P.
L. Flanigan made the assertion before a public gathering at the Opera House last night that you were running for State Senator, with the intention, if elected, of making war upon the University?"

"I understand that that is the case; that Mr. Flanigan made such declarations to the public. In this matter Mr.
Flanigan has evidently been misinformed. Such ideas never arose in my mind, nor was I aware that they had been entertained by others until some time after I had received the nomination for State Senator. I then heard that such statements had been made, but was unable to trace them to anyone. Moreover, I had but little inclination to do so, believing that they had their origin in misapprehensions concerning my relationship to the University and its authorities."

"What, then, are your feelings towards the University, and your intentions with regard to it, if elected Senator?"

"I hold that the University is the most important public trust in the State of Nevada; that its proper maintenance is a duty that devolves upon every one in any way connected with it, especially upon the State Legislature, and that a breach of this trust by any member of that body ought to bring upon him the condemnation and scorn of our citizens."

"It has also been stated that if you are elected you will attempt to procure the removal of Dr. Stubbs. What do you say to that assertion?"

"That it is as groundless as the former one. While there have been differences between Dr. Stubbs and myself, this has never caused me to entertain the idea of attacking him in any way."

The above statements are taken verbatim—word for word as the Professor uttered them, and in the opinion of one who has listened to many interviews, a more positive and unequivocal expression of opinion never saw print.

A Plain Statement
by Jackson.

Professor Robert D. Jackson holds no malice against any member of the Board of Regents or faculty of the University of Nevada. During the difficulties that arose last winter attending his resignation, he plead with the writer to cease attacking the President of the University in his behalf.
He stopped one demonstration by the students that was to have been given in his honor and in affront to the constituted authorities of the college.

He put the "kibosh" on an embryo Jackson and Turritin club that was recently formed at the school.

Jackson is honest and honorable, if nothing else. He would accept no office under a flag of truce, in order that when seated he might loose the dogs of war.

We believe Prof. Jackson, and every student, every alumnus, every citizen who knows him believes him when he says:

"I have no animosities to satisfy, no vengeance to wreak and no enemies to punish in the university matter. I will devote my best intellect and energies as member of the Senate to further the best interests of this school to which my heart is, and always will be attached."

Fusion Money now Looks for Takers.

A number of bets have been made on the election result. There are no takers of money on Bryan and Newlands carrying the State, no matter what odds are offered.

Yesterday a Democratic merchant was so fortunate as to have $150 covered by a Republican spell-binder on the bet that Washoe county, the hot-bed of Republicanism in this State, would give Newlands a majority.

Two hundred dollars was put up several evenings ago in a Virginia street cigar shop on a bet that Prof.
Jackson would be elected to the Senate.

The odds are growing in favor of Jackson, notwithstanding the money fight that is being bitterly against him.

A Horrible Liar.

Sam Hodgkinson was interviewed yesterday on the condition of the fire department. He said:

"The chief is drunk; the men have all been discharged; the horses have been turned out to pasture; the alarm lines are down; the poles have been sold for firewood, and the engines are being used to pump hot air into the local campaign spouters."

THE BENEFIT
LAST NIGHT

Ladies of the Twentieth Century Club Aid Kindergarten Cause.

The Kindergarten benefit given last evening by the Society of the Twentieth Century Club was a brilliant success, socially and financially. The pavilion was decorated in rare taste. Late autumn was the scheme of color. The hues of dying vegetation were the prevailing tints. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs.
Wheeler had charge of the decorations.

Mrs. Wm. Webster presided over the crystalline booth, and Miss Unruh had charge of the lemonade stand.
Delicious ices and cakes were served by Mrs. P. T. Phillips.

The following excellent program was rendered: Instrumental solo.....Mrs. Hymers Quartet.....Messrs. Jameson, Ward, Smith, Ward

Reading.....Miss Minor
Vocal solo.....Mr. Blair Duet.....Misses Linn and Langan
Recitation.....Miss Kruger Vocal solo.....Miss McCormick Dancing followed. Mr. and Mrs.
Gosse led the grand march, and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Free Train Was a Coin Pulling Scheme.

The Seepes advertised a free Farrington train to Wadsworth and return last night. Members of the Republican central committee went about inviting everybody to make the trip.

In response to the request several hundred people availed themselves of the invitation and donned their best array in anticipation of a pleasant excursion. Only three cars were provided, and these were quickly filled with lawyers, doctors, bankers and merchants. Some with their wives and sisters, and others with some other people's wives and sisters.

At any rate, there were ladies galore on the train, not a few of whom were seated beside members of the Young Men's Newlands Club, who wore Bryan buttons.

But, alas, for the hopes of a couple of hundred good Republican voters who did not possess the precious bit of pasteboard, of which a limited number were issued. It was a case of pay or get off. They nearly all got off and went down to Republican headquarters and registered a kick. Some of them came up to the JOURNAL office and requested us to burn up the high sashems of their party, which the writer has attempted to do in the foregoing.

Senator Flanigan
a Happy Father.

Senator and Mrs. P. L. Flanigan became parents of a handsome boy yesterday. Mother and son are doing well, and P. L. is as happy as the birds in springtime. Yesterday he forgot all about his duty towards Dan Wegeler and rattled around trying to get signatures to a petition to run the boy as an independent candidate for the State senate.

This is one of the bright bits of sunlight which for a moment illumines the storm of politics. Members of both parties were hearty in their congratulations of the Republican leader yesterday.

The JOURNAL extends a glad hand and sincerely hopes that the youngster will grow up to be as good a man as his dad.

Narrowly Escaped Death.

One of the ladies who participated in the free ride to Wadsworth last night met with an accident at the depot that might have been fatal. She was standing on the front platform of a car when another car was backed against it. The coupling did not work and the cars bounded apart about a foot. The lady fell to the track between the bumpers, and if the engine had backed again she would have met a terrible death.
